BEST PRACTICE – 2 Swa-Abhivruddhi (Self-Development)

Objective of the practice:

Enablement of weak and slow learners. Need Addressed and the content: Self involvement of a sound, work, ethic, and additional support for slow learners.

The Practice:

This is six-month course in Academic upliftment and skill development offered to under privileged and underprivileged students of the final year degree course between 4.00pm to 5.00pm. on all week days mentoring around 35 students by various department faculties. Time Management, Computing skills, spoken English, confidence building and total development of personality from the course content. No fees was charged for students and no remuneration was paid to teachers. Significant rise in students strength was observed from 35 to around 50. Almost all of them have been employed in local industries and other public sectors. One could see a significant growth in academic performances and attitudes of students who turned out to be more modest and accommodative, which in a way exhibits uniqueness as all rounders.

Evidence of Success:

This practice is now popularly being followed by Polytechnic and Technical institutions. Number of Employers have increased along with more recruitments taking place every year as a result of this practice.

BEST PRACTICE -1 Book Reading Competition

1.Objective: To make students read selected literature at their own pace

2.Need Addressed:

It was observed that the affinity for reading books beyond syllabus was on decline amongst students community. The Principal and the members of Library Committee came out with an excellent stimulus to activate habits in students. The idea behind this 'Granth Vachak Spardha' is to make students read selected Literature at their own pace.

3.Practice:

The members of the library committee and the language experts select a set of atleast 25 books which include mainly life sketches of eminent personalities, autobiographies and award wining literature. Students enroll in the competition at their will. Systematic and planned book issuing is monitored. Perceptions of individual readers of each book are recorded in writing. The winners are appreciated and given cash prizes. All this helps to nurture and enhance reading as well as summarizing abilities of students from all disciplines – a curative measure in its best-accepted form.

4.Evidence of Success:

Student enrolment to the competition has increased. Reading habits of students have improved. Book issue numbers has increased comparatively.

CASE 2 : Training students to use College Library Resources Objective of the practice: To make students aware of the available library resources and services. Need Addressed and the content : Students are fast losing their habit of visiting libraries to read; even if they do , their reading is confined to prescribed texts. They hardly look around to peruse other books in their college library. The need is to introduce the habit of visiting the library more frequently to look at books of various types and to utilize the services available.

The Practise: The practice involves the organization of book exhibitions. In order to promote focused reading the exhibitions are organized on chosen themes. Most of the books of the library are the exhibits. A quiz is organized to promote reading widely and in depth.

Evidence of Success: A large number of students visit the exhibitions. Many participate in the quiz. Also book transaction records show that the reading habit of students is on the increase. Resources: Books in the library and the co-operation of the library staff. The Institution: Name: BAJSS Arts and Commerce college for women, Address : Halageri Cross, Gayathri campus, Haveri Dist.
